Foreword

The Annual Staff of Newark High School presents to the student body the Reveille of nineteen hundred and forty-three. The theme of the Reveille is patriotism. With our world in chaos and nations torn by war, this theme seems altogether fitting for this year. We of America should stress this word and make it sing in the hearts of our countrymen.

Dedication

The nineteen forty-three Reveille Annual is dedicated to all the former students and faculty of Newark Senior High School who are now serving in the United States Army, Navy, or Marines abroad and at home. We dedicate this as our smallest contribution to the great cause for which they serve, and for which cause some of the students have already given their lives.

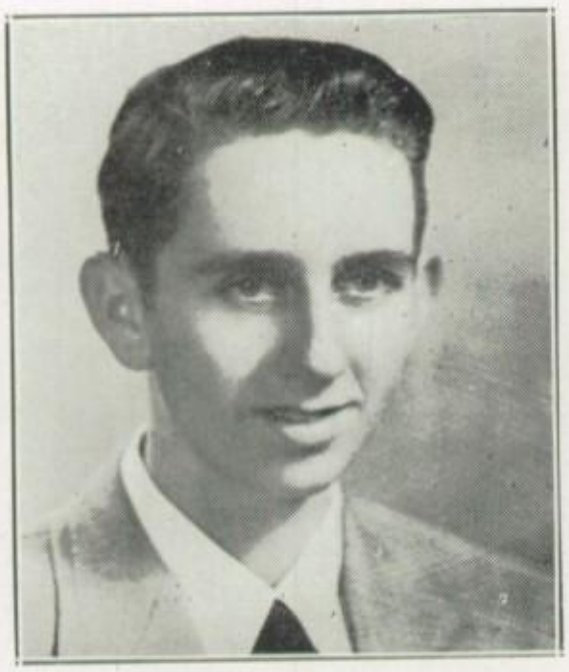
In Memoriam



RICHARD SMITH
December 15, 1925
March 28, 1943

Faculty members and students, especially seniors, mourn the loss of one of its members, Richard Smith, who was killed in an automobile accident near St. Louisville.

Richard was enrolled in the industrial course and was very active in printing the past two years. He was interested in this subject and had pride in doing neat work.

His fatal accident was a shock to his close friends, for he was a congenial and a willing worker.

"Or, ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern,

"Then shall man return to dust and the spirit unto God who gave it."

Viola Wakefield was about to enter her junior year, when her life ended so quickly and without warning. The writer of this short sketch talked with her father and mother just two days before the tragedy and learned from them of her devotion to the High School and particularly to the High School Band for which she had done so much to help make it a success.

Viola, immaculate in appearance, was always respectful to her parents and teachers and kind and thoughtful to her classmates. Truly, she was "the pitcher broken at the fountain, the wheel broken at the cistern," but her spirit returned to God who gave it.

Two very pleasant teas, one a reception for new members and the other a Founder's Day tea, were held. A Civilian Defense committee organized under the direction of Newark's Civilian Defense Council has worked faithfully during the year. A delegation of officers attended the District Conference in Columbus in March.

Courses of Study

Languages

Latin and three modern languages are offered in the high school. Spanish, German, and French are elective in the junior and senior years only; Latin is offered in the sophomore, junior, and senior years.

Modern language study stresses the ability to grasp rapidly thought in the foreign language in speech and writing. It subordinates grammar to the attainment of skill in understanding the language through reading and speaking. Included is a knowledge of the country and its people as an understanding of the foreign peoples and their civilization contributes to intelligent citizenship and enlightened opinion in international problems. The cultural aspects generally admitted to be one of the most significant aims of the modern language course.

In the three years of senior high-school Latin students study the works of three great Romans: Caesar, Cicero, and Virgil. Special attention this year is being given to Roman life and times and to the contacts of English and Latin. Enrollment in this subject totals 117, or 11.2% of the total high-school enrollment.

Social Science

Social Science is a course of study that is vitally important to every American boy and girl today. The subjects studied in this course give the pupils knowledge that helps him to understand his country and its problems better. The course will also make him a better leader in the solving of these problems in the future.

Our country itself is studied from the beginning to the present time in American history; while civics deals with the government of the people living in the United States and its dependencies. The vital problem of earning a living is discussed in economics, and the social life of our people is covered in sociology. In addition to these subjects there are others that are very important. They are economic geography, general history, and modern history. In modern history the period of European history beginning with the sixteenth century up to the present time is discussed. This subject forms a very good background for American history. More time is covered in general history as it is a summary of the history of the world from ancient times to modern. There is a difference between the subjects of economics and economic geography. Economics deals with the problems of income; and economic geography covers the imports and exports of our country compared with those of other countries and with the comparison of their products. Current events have become very important in the classes in social science this year.

Juniors are taking American history again this year as the students in the eleventh grade did last year. The present seniors are enrolled in the half-year courses of civics and economics. Next year the juniors will follow their footsteps again. This plan was new last year and makes it possible for students to get the to credits of Social Science that are necessary for graduation.

Science

The science course is divided into three branches: Biology, physics, and chemistry. Biology, generally taken in the sophomore year, aims to increase the student's understanding of life in the world he lives in and to teach him to adapt himself to his surrcundings or environment. Physics and chemistry are taken either in the junior or senior year. Chemistry deals with the material compositions and processes in the world about us; while physics is a detailed study of heat, light, sound, electricity, and the mechanics of solids and liquids.

In order to study science in any form the student has to be open minded and be able to see both sides of a question before drawing a conclusion.

Mathematics

The intention of the mathematics course is to teach students the use of deductive reasoning in the solving of practical problems; in addition, it offers them a way to serve their country in future years, for mathematics is an essential to all countries whether they are at war or at peace.

The course includes plane and solid geometry, Today's Geometry, advanced algebra, college algebra, and trigonometry. Plane geometry is the basis of the high-school mathematics and deals mainly with figures of two dimensions. Solid geometry differs from plane geometry in that emphasis is placed on three dimensional figures. In Today's Geometry, students can learn the principles of geometry without the demonstrations. The advanced algebra course is studied with solid geometry and is a continuation of the elementary algebra taught in the junior high schools. In college algebra, students are taught shorter an easier methods of solving the principles of advanced algebra. College algebra provides the necessary basis for trigonometry, calculus, and other courses in advanced mathematics. Trigonometry is the highest form of mathematics taugh in high school and pertains to the relations between the sides and angles of triangles.

Commercial Courses

In this time of need for well-trained business people, we are especially glad to have in our school a complete commercial course. The three years of this course enable the pupil to become thoroughly acquainted with the business world.

In the sophomore year students receive basic training for life in the business world. This training includes salesmanship, economic geography, business mathematics, and English.

As a junior the student receives specialized training in business English, bookkeeping, typing, stenography, and commercial law.

In the senior year the student acquires a technical knowledge in the field of his choice. This knowledge is gained through courses in typewriting, bookkeeping, stenography, retail selling, and office machines. The latter course consists of learning to operate the dictaphone, comptometer, Burroughs calculator, Monrow calculator, ten key and multiple key adding machines, and the mimeograph machine. A new course, cooperative retailing has been added to the curriculum this year. Thirty picked seniors go to school in the morning and work afternoons and on Saturdays. They have a forty-eight hour week; twenty hours at school and twenty-eight hours at work.

Home Economics

Home economics is one of our important courses because it teaches girls economical homemaking. The girls of Newark high School are realizing its importance and each year the number enrolled in this course becomes larger. Ths year because of the growing interest in the subject, a course was offered to the seniors.

Many problems are studied in the home economics course. Some are the home life of an adolescent; such as, maintaining health and safety, making friends, sharing in certain home activities, and personal and family clothing needs. Also the girls study nutrition, economical buying, and sewing. These problems are studied in Home Economics X, Home Economics XI, and Home Economics XII.

The senior class is different from the other classes in that it is only one period in length and that this period is used in discussion as is true of the other classes of the school. Also the senior girls choose, for the most part, the topics they are interested in studying. Thus, in three years a girl taking the home economics course acquires skill as a home maker and is able to assume the daily tasks and prcblems of home life easily.

Industrial Arts

At the beginning of this school term, Lieutenant General Brehon B. Somervell addressed a large audience of schcol and college officials. They had come to Washington from every state in the Union to learn what the schools can do to help win this war.

"We must have specialists—those men who know the fundamentals of electricity, who know automotive mechanics, who can operate radios, or dismantle carburetors. Without them your army will be an incongruous mass, incapable of attaining an objective.

"Our army today is an army of specialists. Out of every one hundred men inducted into the service, sixty-three are assigned to duties requiring specialized training. We are not getting those sixty-three specialists through the induction centers. But modern warfare dictates that we must have them."

To meet the rising demands of our nation at war our schools have developed a course known as pre-induction training.

The Newark High School's Manual Arts Laboratories have, of course, according to the government's orders, initiated pre-flight and pre-induction training and completely changed the ordinary scholastic schedule.

Included in this training are: Fundamentals of electricity, fundamentals of machines, fundamentals of shopwork, fundamentals of radio, and fundamentals of automotive mechanics.

These courses offer training which is invaluable on the land, in the air, or on the water.

General Somervell said, "The job of the schools in this total war is to educate the nation's manpower for war and for the peace that follows. We can lose this total war of the battlefield as a direct result of losing it on the educational front. Education is the backbone of the Army. That was never more true than it is today—now.

Physical Education

The physical education program aims to develop the pupil's character as well as aiding in improving his physical well being. Each student attends two activity periods each week. One out of every four periods is devoted to health and hygiene.

During the activity classes the boys participate in numerous sports; such as basketball, baseball, volleyball, and gymnastics. Two times each week boys who are interested meet in the gym for a physical fitness class. This class is designed to bring the boys into the best possible physical condition; thus, they are not only aiding themselves, but their country by becoming healthier citizens.

The girls' classes engage in volleyball, baseball, and basketball. They practice ping pong, dancing, and badminton if they choose.

In the health classes the students learn the general health rules which are necessary to personal welfare. By the application of these health rules, they are able to complete mental and physicial developments and also to improve the environment in the school and the community. Students may also study first-aid. This is essential because a knowledge of first-aid may save the life of some person in a disaster.

Music

The band and orchestra serve a double purpose: first, to provide musical entertainment to the student body; secondly, to offer an opportunity to the members to acquire greater knowledge and more appreciation for finer music.

The orchestra meets the seventh period Monday and Wednesday to prepare various selections for chapel programs or for other occasions which might arise. Some of their favorite pieces are "Tales from Vienna Woods," "Poem", "Light Cavalry." These are just a few of the many compositions they learn. For chapel programs alone they have especially prepared ten marches.

The band members meet Tuesday and Friday the seventh period to rehearse the pieces that they play at football and basketball games, and also to prepare themselves for the annual band concert given in May.

During the football season they march out to White's stadium where they practice their various formations, some of these are U.S.A., N.H.S., and Dad.

Some of the pieces that the band learns are "Marines Hymn," "Barnum and Bailey March," "White Cliffs of Dover." These are but a few of the band's large repertory.

The third important part of the music department is the Glee Club. This is an organization of girls to offer entertainment to the student body and the public. The membership consists of one hundred girls.

The Glee Club offered several concerts the past year which were received enthusiastically by the students. Some of the selections which they have prepared include: The Lord's Prayer by Mallat, Dona Nobis Pacem an 11th Century melody, The Bell by Rachmaninoff, Glannina by Friml. Solos have been given by Ann Douglass and Vivien Kendricks.

English

The study of English is so important to the development of the student that it forms a major part of the curriculum for twelve years. More important than ever is the English course in this time of war. This year, in cooperation with the Army and governmental suggestions, the English department is stressing the four methods of communication: speaking, reading, writing, and listening.

From the "High School Victory Corps" a pamphlet distributed by the United States Office of Education, is quoted the following:

"English—Both formal courses and informal service activities need now to be redirected for wartime citizenship training. Special emphasis must be placed in English courses upon the development of fundamental reading skills; upon clear, correct, and concise oral and written expression. The literature of patriotism and American idealism, of current events and war problems, should find its way in larger measure into the English course."

In accordance with this suggestion, the English teachers have arranged a class in remedial reading. Tests were given in reading speed and comprehension; these tests were followed by daily instruction to improve skills in reading. In all classes increased emphasis was placed on drill in spelling and practice in oral and written composition.

In the sophomore year the student receives training in the principles of grammar as well as composition both written and oral. Literature is divided into a study of many types: short story, play, poetry, and novel.

Junior English is a review of grammar accompanied by a study of the writings of American authors, a play by Shakespeare, a long poem, and a novel.

In the senior year, English is required of the college preparatory students. The students receive further instruction in the theory and use of grammar and pursue a course in English Literature by means of an anthology of English prose and poetry. Collateral reading, with emphasis upon the novel, and two long papers are required. An elective course, General English, is also offered to seniors. This course includes modern literature, American and English, and oral and written composition.

The Business English course of the junior year is adapted to the needs of the Commercial students. The course consists of a study of English usage, American literature, and practice in business letter writing. These subjects give the student adequate tools for immediate use and for future vocational needs.

Industrial English is the course provided for the Industrial Arts students in the junior year. Emphasis is placed on spelling, comprehension of reading matter, and composition which is based on vocational needs.

Also under the English Department are speech and dramatics. The speech course includes the different types of speeches, platform behavior, two long speeches, by English and American orators, a long declamation, a voice recording, and participation in making announcements over the public address system. The study of dramatics includes interpretive readings, choral reading, history of the drama, the structure of plays, make-up, the making of model stages, and written projects.

Journalism is a course offered to juniors and seniors which gives opportunity for creative writing on the staff of the school paper. This year the course provided extensive work in learning to read a newspaper and in improvement in vocabulary. This class performs a service for the High School in producing the weekly paper, the Reveille News.

Lincoln Girls in a Shop Program

One of the significant facts about the conduct of this war is the increasing demand for women to supplant men in industry. These women rivet, operate lathes and run milling machines. Consequently, it is highly important that girls become familiar with ordinary shop tools and terms.

The Hammer and Saw Club was organized in September 1941 as the outgrowth of an interest on the part of the ninth grade girls in making costume jewelry and wooden lapel gadgets. The entrance of the United States into the war has changed their fundamental purpose. They are interested now, in learning all they can about the work of the industrial arts shop. The club includes the following ninth grade girls in its membership:

Jacqueline Shoemaker
Tula Bebout
Margaret DeLancey
Mary Lou Cline
Walthalean York
Jacqueline Rice
Phyllis Dodge
Harriett Haynes
Maxine Jacobs
Betty Candill
Virginia O'Conner
Betty Gardner
Marilyn Wintermute
Jean Sunkle
Sara Dell Hollar
Zita Toomey
Joyce Miller
Bonnetta Herman

Mr. Rolland Shell, industrial arts teacher at Lincoln School, is the sponsor.

The program is broad and covers all points of drama including acting, staging, lighting, make-up, directing, and design. Prop and Cue gives three major productions yearly: A club play in November, a faculty-student production in March, and a ninth-grade play in May.

Each year a "skull" is given to the outstanding dramatics pupil. In 1941, it was given to James Cree and in 1942 it was given to Richard Rice.

The club is now limited to thirty-five members from eighth and ninth grades. This gives each pupil a chance to participate in a major production or a one-act play sometime during the year.

Mr. Frank Jakes is the sponsor of Prop and Cue.

The National Honor Society is chosen from the upper fifteen per cent of the senior class. It is a national organization begun in this school in 1937 under the direction of Miss Laura Hosick. The chief purpose of the club is to give due recognition to the people who are high in interest in scholarship.

The members of the society were formally presented to the student body in an asembly program on March 8. Dr. Merrimon Cuninggim, a professor at Denison University who was formerly a Rhodes scholar at Oxford University was the speaker. His subject was British Characteristics vs. American Characteristics.

The annual banquet was held at Hull Place on April 16. The speaker was Miss Lauriel Eubank; her subject was "I Remember Pearl Harbor." Throughout the year funds were raised by tax stamps collected by the members who were admitted at the end of their junior year. The officers for the year were:

The newest organization in Newark High School is Masque and Gavel which is a national honorary society recognizing those members of the high school skilled in speech and dramatics.

To gain membership, the students declare their candidacy some months in advance. The students' teachers are then informed and at the end of the semester, they turn in reports on the students' progress. This applies to activities as well as classroom work.

The objectives of this organization are threefold: to recognize and promote significant student achievement in any area of speech in the high school, to assist the student in raising his standards of speech, to sponsor a better relationship between the high school and its community.

Under the able leadership of Miss Betty Jane Burris, the club sponsored an evening of entertainment for the promotion of the sale of war bonds. The club also presented programs before prominent clubs in the city.

In spite of gas shortage the debate squads completed a full schedule of work. At the beginning of the year there were two classes: seven in the advanced group and fifteen in the sophomore division. The first semester was spent in the general study of the question: Resolved, That post-war World Federation be established. Then the classes were combined and the debate schedule carried out as follows:

In the Columbus North tournament, held Jan. 23, Newark with four teams entered and tied with Canton McKinley for second place. Three days after a dual debate with Coshocton, the local school entered the tournament of District Four held in Columbus, Feb. 13. In this contest Marietta, Columbus North, and Newark earned the right to participate in the State Tournament, held March 19, 20. Here Newark went farther than in the past eight years — being stopped only in the sixth round — the semi-finals, by a team which in the next round became the state champions.

The debate squads also appeared before the four junior high schools, in panel discussions at two churches, and before the local public speaking class. The senior affirmative team on March 5 met the Zanesville debaters at a luncheon given by the Zanesville Exchange Club. The year's work was fittingly climaxed by the participation of Richard Baker, Patrick Irish, and Lorenzo Lea in the N. F. L. Congress, held this year on March 19 and 20 in Springfield.

The Modern Language Club of Newark High School is composed of the students of the modern languages: French, Spanish, and German.

The purpose of the Modern Language Club is to promote a broader and more extensive interpretation of the language, customs, and culture of the foreign countries. This cultural aspect is generally admitted to be one of the most significant aims of modern language study. An understanding of foreign people and their civilization contributes to intelligent citizenship and enlightened public opinion in international problems. With this purpose the Modern Language Club has this year invited speakers who can bring to them different aspects of the countries where French, German, and Spanish are spoken; thus the aim of the international scope is more nearly attained.

The club meets on the first Monday of every month.

smoothly. She collects dues and contributions of food, clothing, toys, and money, distributes G.R. pins and buttons, checks membership and attendance at the meetings, sells tickets, hears new members say memory work, fills out record cards for each member and does any other service necessary.

Last summer two of the officers attended the Girl Reserve camp at Camp Mary Eells on Lake Erie. They brought back new ideas for programs from members of other clubs.

At Thanksgiving and Christmas time the Girl Reserves share their blessings with those less fortunate than they are. They give food, clothing, and toys to fill baskets. This year Frances Butcher and her committee helped three families at Thanksgiving time and five families at Christmas time. This year Frances and her committee also filled a box for the Red Cross.

The programs this year have mostly been given by members themselves. A talent program was held on March

This year the new Girl Reserve chorus led by Jane and Jean Kreitler and accompanied by Thelma Kinser gave two programs.

The social committee and their chairman, Harriett Layrence, held an informal initiation at the gymnasium at the beginning of the year. The annual Girl Reserve valentine dance was held in the Masonic Temple on February 6. On May 7 the Girl Reserves had their annual parent-daughter banquet at the First Presbyterian Church.

Another annual celebration of the Girl Reserves is Girl Reserve week. At the beginning of this week the club attends church in a body. This year

As the theme for their float at the Homecoming game the Girl Reserves used the old-fashioned Girl Reserve and the modern Girl. Reserve. The girls formed a triangle on the float which was decorated with blue and silver crepe paper and G.R. emblems.

At the beginning of this year the Girl Reserves made a present of two hand-woven rugs to the Y.W.C.A., and Jean and Jane Kreitler and Kathryn Palmer told the Y.W.C.A. Board members of the club and its work.

The club had various speakers and showed movies at their programs. Their adviser, Mr. Wilson, spoke of his travels through Europe on a bicycle. Mr. Walter L. Young of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, spoke on "Be Careful."

The parking committee was active in keeping the parking area clear. Also the poster committee drew illustrations for the safety campaign and for the membership drive.

This year our library is three years old. Since the beginning the students of Newark High School have appreciated the help their library has been to them in their school work.

A Library Club was organized when the library was first opened by Miss Blanche L. Hills. The members of this club served as library assistants one period a day to help the students and to issue books. During the regular meeting of the club the girls learned the methods used in our library. Some of the purposes of the club are to help the students and faculty in the use of the library; to serve as a possible vocational interest for some members; and to help the members become interested in reading the educational books and magazines

At the beginning of the second semester Miss Hills left for another position and Miss Betty Jane Burris, dramatic coach and public speaking instructor, became the new librarian. Since Miss Burris has several classes the library is open only in the morning. Moreover, a permit is required for admittance to the library. However, the students are still being urged to attend and make use of the library.

The Scribblers Club, now under the supervision of Mr. Kingery, is quite an old club that has been reorganized this year. Its purpose is to stimulate the writing interest of students in various forms of literature and to investigate the various techniques in many types of literature.

In its work many suggested topics are used but mostly descriptive writing in the form of composition. These compositions are edited and criticized by Mr. Kingery and then read before the group.

The club has a small library and the students are encouraged to read and work with these publications. A list of all outside readings that the members do will be kept and filed in order to trace the development of the members in choice of material. With the aid of the library, the club subscribes to the magazines Poetry and Story Parade to study and read the styles of current writings.

All classes may belong to this club because there is no grade restriction. A student may be slow in other subjects, but if he has shown a flair for writing he may exhibit his or her talents in Scribblers. There are no dues and but two officers: a president and secretary-treasurer.

This year, the Scribblers club had many guest speakers who are well qualified to speak on various literary subjects.

The Sales Organization is composed of students taking retail selling and any other pupils wishing experience in the work. The organization has a two-fold purpose: to give members experience in serving people and to provide refreshments to the patrons of our sport events.

This group of about sixty students did almost eighteen hundred dollars' worth of business last year. The profit made goes to various needs of the school not covered by other sources of income. This year the fund provided for some assembly talks and for the purchase of a motion-picture screen. The aim of the club is to purchase such things as will be of benefit to the greatest number of students.

The members of the club chose sides and had a contest. The losing side gave a party for the winning side. On May the sixth the club had its annual banquet at Hull Place. Each member of the club was to bring his or her employer as a guest.

The Junior Retailers have been successful as a club and each member has made a success of his individual job. The club has given to the city of Newark students who are well-educated in the subject of selling.

The activities of the Newark-High band have been very important to the student body this year. It has added much enthusiasm and pleasure at football and basketball games. Bill Blatz, reporter for the Dispatch, said, "Newark had one of the most outstanding bands on the gridiron in Central Ohio."

For the first part of the year the band, under the direction of Mr. Dwight Campbell, offered much entertainment including a concert in the fall given at White's Stadium.

The band consists of eighty-five members including a drum major and sixteen drum majorettes. The most outstanding members were chosen to play at basketball games. Money was made by the band this year by a collection taken at the stadium. This money helps to provide for their equipment.

In the middle of the first semester the band came under the direction of Mr. Charles Dowling, Jr., replacing the position vacated by Mr. Campbell who has left civilian life to offer his services to the United States Navy. Mr. Dowling has capably filled this position and has offered considerable entertainment the past year, including a concert given the second semester.

The aim is to cooperate and assist the band instructor in securing the necessary equipment, such as Bass and French Horns, and uniforms for the band. The club also helps to furnish transportation to the games when the band accompanies the team.

This assistance is made possible by the support of the general public given to the band and Band Club Activities, such as, the donations at the Homecoming Game and the Spring Concert. This also helps to support the motto—"Grow or Go."

COOK

Chillicothe

In the first league game of the 1942 football season, the Newark Wildcats edged the Cavaliers by a score of 13 to 6. Although Newark was highly favored, the team found themselves bucking a strong and smooth-working team.

The first score for the 'Cats came midway in the first period as Bickel flipped a pass to Jackson, who streaked over from the twenty. The Cavaliers were not in the mood to be beaten severely, for soon afterward, Richardson threw a long pass to the Newark five. King made a desperate drive for the ball and fell across the goal line with with the ball firmly in his arms. Very little happened during the third period, but the 'Cats got under way again in the fourth. Jackson carried the ball fourteen yards to the Chillicothe four-yard stripe and on the next play, Bickel knifed his way through tackle for the score.

Cambridge

That the Newark Wildcats still remain untamed was openly exhibited at Cambridge where the second of the C. O. L. games was played.

Bickel, Newark's fleet-footed back, tallied four goals, Campbell two, while Jackson and Robertson each accounted for one score. Messick made five perfect conversions to further the 'Cats' lead. Jackson made the first score after the fighting Wildcats had driven to the Cambridge 25-yard stripe. On the next play, he slipped down the sidelines to score standing up. Bickel made sensational runs of 60, 80, and 58 yards for three of his four touchdowns. Campbell's two scores came by way of perfect passes from Jackson into the end zone. Jackson also set up a touchdown on a pass to Robertson, who was in the clear across the goal line. Final score: Newark 53, Cambridge 0.

Marietta

Newark successfully out-played and out-pointed the Marietta Tigers in a game that was decidedly an offensive contest between two strong and spirited backfields.

The Wildcats got their first score about five minutes after the opening whistle. Bickel, Winn, and Jackson staged a 64-yard march to the goal, Bickel going the last two yards to score after Marietta had been penalized and the ball put on their own four-yard line. Bickel plunged over on the second play. Jackson also made a 58-yard run, but the play was nullified because of Newark's clipping.

The Tigers scored after a 53-yard drive in which Fritz was the star. Shortly after, they staged a drive of 74 yards only to be halted on the seventh.

Newark's final score came after Gorsuch intercepted a pass on the 27-yard stripe. Bickel, Winn, and Jackson picked up several yards and Bickel cracked through from the one on the next play.

Zanesville

The Newark Wildcats rolled on to their sixth consecutive win as they forced the Zanesville Blue Devils to kneel before them.

The first score came for Newark when Bickel planted a beautiful pass in Campbell's arms on the Zanesville ten-yard line. The 'Cats scored again after hammering their way 71 yards to the Blue Devils' five. Bickel went the final distance. "Porky" Forgraves scored in the third quarter when he recovered a Zanesville fumble and sped 30 yards for six points. After the driving 'Cats had rolled 40 yards early in the fourth period, Bickel plunged from about the 5-inch line for the final score. However, Zanesville also felt in the scoring mood, for the Blue Devils tallied 12 points in the last five minutes of the game. The first tally came by way of a 31-yard pass from Bateson to Morgan. The second score was also a pass, as Bateson passed to Crotzer although the Blue Devils were only inches from the goal.

BLINE

Dover

The Wildcats were staggered for the first time this year as the Dover Crimson Tornados won a heart-breaker 21 to 13. In spite of Newark's defeat, the Crimson Tornados suffered their first taste of being scored upon in any of their league games.

Dover took advantage of Newark's apparent nervousness and in about six plays scored after driving from the Newark 24-yard line. Before the 'Cats had fully recovered from its first wound, Dover scored again after blocking a Newark punt. This time the 'Cats roared back with a 70-yard drive that ended with Jackson scoring on a reverse. The third quarter was one of little excitement with neither team making any scoring threats. The Crimson Tornados put the game on ice as they racked up a final seven points in the final period. The Wildcats were game to the end and in the final minutes, Winn cracked the line to score again.

Lancaster

The Newark Wildcats had a nip and tuck battle all the way, but succeeded in edging out the Lancaster Golden Gales in the final seconds of the last period by a score of 13 to 6.

The first period was all Lancaster, as they pushed the 'Cats all over the field, allowing Newark a total gain of two yards that period. However, the 'Cats struck back hard in the second stanza and before the end of that period, Patterson had crossed the goal twice. His first run, a jaunt of 30 yards, was nullified by a penalty, but a series of short drives brought the 'Cats again to the Golden Gales' four and Patterson pushed over the remaining distance to score. Two beautiful passes from Agee to Turner brought the score for the Gales in the third period. Jackson and Winn made several nice runs in the fourth quarter for long gains. A pass from Winn to Jackson brought the 'Cats four yards from a score, and on the next play, Winn bored his way over as the clock ticked away the final seconds.

Coshocton

The Wildcats suffered their second defeat of the season as the Coshocton Redskins snatched the second place title in the Central Ohio League, by defeating the Cats, 12 to 7. The Redskins were defeated only by the C. O. L. winner, Dover.

Although Coshocton had the upper hand throughout the game, the Cats kept fighting until the final gun. The half ended in Coshocton's favor, 6 to 0, after Funk, Redskin halfback, made a beautiful run of 25 yards. Again in the third quarter it was Funk who took the honors as he raced once more across the Wildcats' goal.

Early in the final period, Winn got loose on a 58-yard run. Running behind perfect blocking Winn streaked down the sideline for Newark's only score. Messick split the uprights for the extra point.

True Champions!!

"A 'green' team—a new coach—what chance do they have?" Undoubtedly countless people made this or similar statements before they saw the 1943 Wildcat squad in action. And yet this very same team went through the season collecting one championship after another, C. O. L. champs, Central District champs, Southwestern Regional champs, and finally State champs! This remarkable record is backed by the fact that the 'Cats won 24 out of 26 games, losing only to Dover on two occasions.

To win the district championship, the Newark quint had to down Columbus South, Westerville, Columbus Central, and Marion Harding. The first two games were push overs as the 'Cats defeated Columbus South and Westerville with scores of 41-27 and 76-33 respectively. The game with Central, however, was one in which the Wildcats had to be on their toes every second in order to come out on the long end of a 43-42 score. The Newark-Marion Harding game was just another case of a superb team beating a mediocre team by a 48-26 score.

Moving on into the regional tournament, the 'Cats fought valiantly against a strong Middletown team to emerge victoriously to the tune of 30-32. The second game of the regional tournament was with Xenia Central, a good team but no match for the fighting Newark five. Result: Newark 33, Xenia Central 24.

Coming into the home stretch, Newark drew the undefeated Martins Ferry quint, and decided to end that 26-game win streak which the Ferrians had built up. This they proceeded to do, as they forced the Martins Ferry five into submission by defeating them 44 to 36. With but one team standing between them and a state championship title, there was no way of stopping the Wildcats. After a long and hard-fought game, the 'Cats finally turned back the Canton McKinley five, 47-42, to capture the Class A State Championship Title.

"A 'green' team—a new coach—how could they win?"

The whole story could be told in just a few words—a valiant team, a "never say die" team, a determined team; and about 1% beginners' luck!

Dover — There

The 'Cats dropped their first league game to Dover, on Dover's small floor. The veteran Dover five grabbed the lead early in the first period, and retained it throughout the game. Although Dover scored 58 points, the valiant Wildcats gathered 38 tallies before the final gun.

Cambridge — Here

The Cats found little trouble in putting down the Cambridge Brownies with a score of 44-28. The Newark five held the lead throughout the game and were paced by Schaus who collected 11 points.

Chillicothe — There

Leading a stubborn Chillicothe five all the way, the Wildcats finally pulled another game over in to the Victory column with a 29-19 score. Bickel paced the Cats with 8 points, while Sedgwick and Campbell each tallied 6 points.

Zanesville — Here

Avenging their defeat to Dover, the Wildcats thoroughly trounced the Zanesvile Blue Devils by the crushing score of 48-20. Once more Schaus paced the 'Cats, this time with 17 points; Campbell scored 7, while Williams and Jackson each accounted for 6 points.

Coshocton — There

The Wildcats trimmed the Coshocton Redskins with surprising ease and a 42-32 score. From the first quarter on, the Newark five had the Coshocton team completely bottled up so far as offensive action was concerned. Schaus paced the winners with 15 points, while Campbell collected 10 points.

Lancaster — Here

Displaying perfect defensive action, the Wildcats completely defeated and demoralized the Lancaster Golden Gales. The Cats were led by Schaus with 18 points, while Campbell swished the nets for 12 points. Final score: Newark 54, Lancaster 20.

Marietta — There

In a rough and tumble foul-shooting contest, the Newark quint cashed in on 21 of 28 free throws to win by a score of 47-30. Schaus and Jackson each gained 12 points and Bline made 10.

Zanesville — There

Using a tight defense that had the Zanesville Blue Devils bottled up, the Newark Wildcats easily scored another victory to the tune of 45 to 27. Fred Schaus was the spark of the team as he racked up 19 points.

Dover — Here

Newark again bowed to Dover in a game that was hard fought both offensively and defensively. The Tornados cashed in on their advantage of having experienced men, and finally succeeded in upsetting the Cats 47-44.

Cambridge — There

Fighting desperately against the Cambridge Brownies, the Wildcats finally managed to hold off the Brownies until the final gun to win with a 43-40 score. Schaus led the Wildcats' attack with 13 points, while C. O. L. leader Galloway was held to 2 points.

Chillicothe — Here

In the third-quarter drive which netted the 'Cats 22 points, Newark impressively routed the Chillicothe Red Devils 55 to 28. The Chillicothe five found their shifting ball defense useless against the smooth Newark passing attack. Schaus netted 20 points while Jackson tallied 9.

Coshocton — Here

Exhibiting their best defensive game of the season, the Wildcats easily handed the Coshocton Braves a sound thrashing and the short end of a 54-34 score. Schaus led the 'Cats attack with 12 points; Campbell tallied 10, and Bickel and Jackson each collected 9 points.

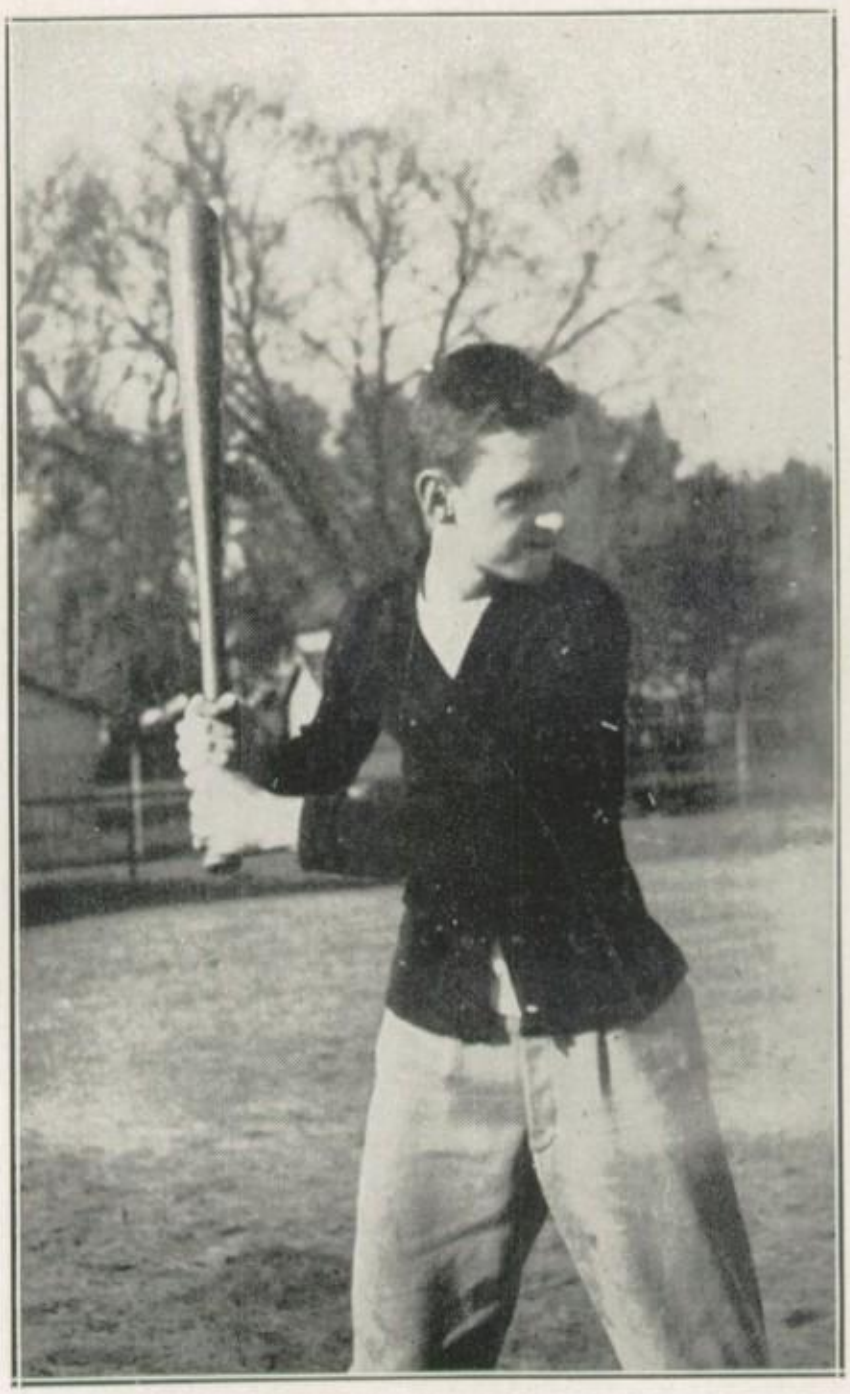
Bush Leaguers



Three teams are eligible for competition in the intramural baseball league. Last year, the seniors copped first place by winning all six of their games. The juniors were second by winning two and losing four, while the sophomores lost every game but one. Letters were awarded to thirteen players on the basis of batting and fielding percentages. Those receiving letters were: Smith, Orr, Hinger, Elliott, Coakley, Shaller, Curry, Roof, Bline, Jury, Gallagher, Hogue, and Hair.

Girls' Gymnasium Classes

The girls' gym classes in Newark High School are under the direction of Miss Florence Myer, head of the girls' athletic department.

Each girl participating in physical education has two gymnastic periods every week with the exception of a health period, which is given once every two weeks. In these gym classes, first aid, marching ,ping pong, and good health are taught plus the active sports of baseball, bowling, basketball, volleyball, and badminton. Acrobatics and other exercises are learned through the use of ropes and rings which are let down at certain periods of the year.

A girl may receive a red letter by earning 1,000 points and a white letter by earning 1,500 points. These points are made by participating in sports, refereeing games, keeping time, or engaging in other outside activities.

The girls get a great deal of exercise and enjoyment from each gym period during the entire year.
